Re: Camelot Time Management Training

Dear John,

We would like to take a moment to thank you for your time spent working with our senior management team at Camelot. Time management is a struggle for all from time to time, so participating in your day session was just what the doctor ordered. The feedback from everyone was extremely positive, which is thanks to your excellent training, both the contents and standard of delivery was wonderful. Well done. We are all working to incorporate your methods of daily organization and planning to move forward in a productive way. We are all extremely excited to see how far we can go with these new skills!

Again, the group had nothing but positive words, and we appreciate your time spent with us. We look forward to working with you in the near future.

Sincerely,

Camelot Education
