Thank you so much for the great two-day outstanding workshop!

It was very inspiring, informative, really well presented and I enjoyed each topic offered. I look forward to implement the tools and utilize my knowledge by practicing.

The most interesting part for me was the behavior style and communication skills sections. Recognizing people's different behavioral styles, understanding how to interact more successfully with others and be open-minded on different approaches can help tremendously in life, at my workplace and in my personal life.

All our daily activities require communication on all levels, locally and internationally. Tasks such as exchanging info, ideas, motivating, delegating and leading are based on an ability to communicate effectively. It's a known challenge for many, particularly in management, but for me the challenge is even greater due to having different cultural and linguistic backgrounds. This is something that can be mastered and I am glad I had a chance to expand my knowledge on the topics.

Sincerely,
